Number of Lawyers: 12

Firm Description:

Hoguet Newman & Regal, LLP is a civil litigation firm founded in 1996 by three senior experienced lawyers with decades of front-line litigation experience in federal and state courts, administrative agencies and arbitration tribunals. The firm has grown steadily, and we are currently eleven attorneys. We are known internationally for our expertise as trial lawyers in commercial litigation, employment law, partnership disputes, securities litigation, and banking and letter of credit law. Our lawyers have also been successful in litigation involving insurance coverage, financial institutions, real estate, publishing and entertainment, intellectual property, internet and computer law, environmental, products liability and contested trusts and estates matters. A significant part of practice is negotiating and drafting executive employment agreements and severance arrangements, partnership documents, shareholder agreements and other basic business arrangements.

We also have relationships with firms that specialize in other areas and regularly work with these other firms or refer our clients to them.

Department and/or Practice Areas:

Commercial litigation, employment litigation and counseling, partnership disputes, securities litigation, banking and letter of credit law, and disputes involving insurance coverage; financial institutions; publishing and entertainment; internet, computers and technology law; environmental issues; products liability, and contested trusts and estates matters. We do not have formal departments.

Significant Firm Specialties:

We have significant expertise in litigating all types of commercial disputes and employment-related disputes. Within the commercial litigation context, we have additional subspecialties in partnership, securities, letter of credit, products liability and technology-related cases. Within the employment context, we specialize in employment discrimination, executive compensation and unfair competition in cases.

Firm Contribution to the Network of Leading Law Firms:

Hoguet Newman & Regal, LLP will offer NLLF a first-class law firm in New York City, with "big firm" litigation experience and expertise and small firm service. We also have a number of strong relationships with lawyers of other specialties with whom we routinely team in order to tackle any type of legal issue. We enjoy working with the other fine firms and lawyers of the Network of Leading Law Firms and look forward to continuing this work.
